The Gift

It was Mark's birthday and his dad came home with a special gift. Mark was excited to know what was in it, so he quickly opened the box. Inside, he found a cute, fluffy, and orange kitten looking up at him. Mark took him out of the box, but he was not sure how to hold it. Quickly, the kitten left his hand and climbed up his sleeve. Mark wrapped his arms around it, so it would not fall, but the kitten continued to climb until it reached Mark's shoulder. There, it sat down and cuddled against Mark's neck. Mark did not know if he should leave it there or take it down, but before he could decide, the kitten began to purr. That is when Mark realized he had made a brand, new friend!
