

Author's purpose

Grade 2 Comprehension Worksheet

An author can write to:

P ersuade	I nform	E ntertain
Get you to do something or believe something	Give you information	Tell you a story you will enjoy

Decide if the author is writing to persuade, inform or entertain. Then circle the P, I or E under the sentence.

A poster about the park's new rules

P I E

A sign asking people to recycle

P I E

A joke book about animals

P I E

A brochure with a map of the zoo

P I E

A letter asking for a new puppy

P I E

A comic book about superheroes

P I E

Read the passage and think about the author's purpose:

Many families live in Hanville. Hanville is a small town with a park, a town square and a lake. The park has a playground and picnic tables. In the town square, there are shops, a bakery and a library. Every Saturday, people set up a farmers' market in the town square to sell fruits and vegetables. The lake is across from the town square. It is a popular place where people fish and ride boats. In the winter, some people ice-skate on its frozen water!

1. Is the author writing to persuade, inform or entertain?

2. Why did you choose this purpose?

Answers

A poster about the park's new rules

P I E

A sign asking people to recycle

P I E

A joke book about animals

P I E

A brochure with a map of the zoo

P I E

A letter asking for a new puppy

P I E

A comic book about superheroes

P I E

1. Is the author writing to persuade, inform or entertain?

Inform

2. Why did you choose this purpose?

The author is giving readers information about the town of Hanville.