Answers:

coarse gravity severe accident accelerate bumpy escaped jagged rate gorgeous observe spiral

The spaceship began to accelerate. "Hold on, it's going to be a bumpy ride!" the pilot announced. Our rate of ascent continued to increase. The forces pushing us back into our seats was severe. Finally, we escaped the atmosphere.

There was no longer any gravity, and we could float from window to window. "Wow, the Earth looks gorgeous from up here!" I said. I could see jagged mountaintops in the north and clouds in a spiral shape to the south. Through the other window, I could observe a million stars twinkling in dark space.

I floated up and bumped my head into the ceiling. The pilot laughed. I ran my fingers through my coarse hair, but didn't feel a lump. After that, though, I was more careful, and I put my seatbelt on. You don't want to have an accident in outer space.
