

Story words

Grade 5 Vocabulary Worksheet

Complete the stories by filling in the missing words.

mysteriously	location	lobby	tropical	applause
Informing	infectious	distraught	neighborhood
scheduled	auditorium	plastered	magnificent

Everyone at Centerville School adored their mascot. Cooper the Cougar's _____ energy brought great joy to the students, teachers and staff every day as he greeted them in the school's _____. It was a tradition that gave their school days a _____ start.

One morning, the students noticed Cooper wasn't in his normal _____. They walked the halls calling his name and searching everywhere for him. He seemed to have _____ disappeared.

"Maybe he decided to go on the _____ vacation he always wanted to take and forgot to tell us," suggested one student.

No one really thought that was the case though, and they knew Cooper wouldn't leave without _____ them.

Feeling _____, the students decided they would not stop looking for him. They _____ posters all around town, organized search parties and searched the whole _____.

With no luck after several days, the students couldn't think of anything else to do. There was a school assembly _____ for Friday, and it wouldn't be the same without Cooper. They kept holding out hope for his safe return though.

On Friday as the assembly was about to begin and the students were filling the _____, there was a hushed buzz among the teachers and staff. Then the school song began to play and out walked Cooper.

It turned out that Cooper had not gone on vacation or disappeared. The teachers and staff had been secretly making him a shiny new uniform to surprise the students. He now looked more majestic than ever. Thrilled to have him back and loving his new uniform, the students erupted in _____.

Story words

Grade 5 Vocabulary Worksheet

Answers:

mysteriously	location	lobby	tropical	applause
Informing	infectious	distraught	neighborhood
scheduled	auditorium	plastered	magnificent

Everyone at Centerville School adored their mascot. Cooper the Cougar's infectious energy brought great joy to the students, teachers and staff every day as he greeted them in the school's lobby. It was a tradition that gave their school days a magnificent start.

One morning, the students noticed Cooper wasn't in his normal location. They walked the halls calling his name and searching everywhere for him. He seemed to have mysteriously disappeared.

"Maybe he decided to go on the tropical vacation he always wanted to take and forgot to tell us," suggested one student.

No one really thought that was the case though, and they knew Cooper wouldn't leave without informing them.

Feeling distraught, the students decided they would not stop looking for him. They plastered posters all around town, organized search parties and searched the whole neighborhood.

With no luck after several days, the students couldn't think of anything else to do. There was a school assembly scheduled for Friday, and it wouldn't be the same without Cooper. They kept holding out hope for his safe return though.

On Friday as the assembly was about to begin and the students were filling the auditorium, there was a hushed buzz among the teachers and staff. Then the school song began to play and out walked Cooper.

It turned out that Cooper had not gone on vacation or disappeared. The teachers and staff had been secretly making him a shiny new uniform to surprise the students. He now looked more majestic than ever. Thrilled to have him back and loving his new uniform, the students erupted in applause.